

Bandits kill two in Kaduna as natives repel invasion

By Saxone Akhaine
(Kaduna) and Njadvara
Musa (Maiduguri)

05 February 2021 | 3:08
am

El-Rufai. Photo: TWITTER/GOVKADUNA

Omo-Agege, others escape as Delta APC engages in free-for-all

8 hours ago

Army neutralises terrorists in N'East, commanders flee

Bandits have killed two persons in Igabi Council, Kaduna State, as natives push back gunmen who wanted to invade the area.

Disclosing this yesterday, the Commissioner of Internal Security and Home Affairs, Samuel Aruwan, stated that security operatives had reported that bandits attacked Gidan Maikudi hamlet, a herders' settlement in Kerawa ward of Igabi, in an attempt to kidnap residents.

“According to the report, local vigilantes in the community mobilised to repel the attack, and in the ensuing gunfight, beat back the bandits who withdrew with several casualties,” he said.

A resident, Maikudu Husaini, was shot dead during the skirmish. His brother, Nafiu Husaini, also gave up the ghost as he was being rushed to the hospital due to gunshot injuries.

NPAN commends Okowa for infrastructure development in Delta

9 hours ago

---

Farmers count losses to herdsmen attack in Edo community

8 hours ago

---

