Police Kill Five UGM Planning Attack On Station In Rivers, Repel Mob Attack

Unknown gunmen, yesterday, attacked Umutu Police station in Ndowka East Council of Delta State, killing a senior Police officer and two rank and file officers, two days after a police officer was killed at Akwukwu-Igbo in Oshimili North Council of the state.

The Guardian gathered that the incident happened about 1:30am, as the bandits attempted to break into the station. It was also gathered that two of the bandits were killed by Police operatives who repelled their attack on the station.

Confirming the incident, spokesperson, Bright Edafe, said two cops died during the attack, while another died due to high blood pressure occasioned by the incident, saying the intention of the attackers was to burn down the station but were resisted.
