

News | Nigeria | Metro

Seven accident victims buried in Kano

By Murtala Adewale, Kano | 08 June 2021 | 3:27 am

Seven residents of Sani Mai Nagge quarters in Gwale Local Government Area of Kano, who were involved in the Zaria-Kano expressway accident at the weekend, have been buried.

The victims, who were among 17 persons involved in multiple auto-crash on Saturday, were returning to Kano after attending a wedding ceremony of their friend.

Combined funeral prayers were conducted for the deceased by a congregation of relatives and well-wishers according to Islamic rites, on Sunday night, before they were buried at Unguwar Gwale Cemetery.

Confirming the development to journalists after the burial, the ward head of Sani Mai Nagge quarters, Alhaji Aliyu Mohammed, said seven of the victims were from Kano.

He expressed shock and sadness over the loss just as he prayed for the repose of their souls.

Meanwhile, Governor Abdullahi Umar Ganduje has condoled with the families and relatives of the departed souls.

In a statement signed by Chief Press Secretary, Abba Anwar, Ganduje said the death of the young men was a great loss not only to the families but also to the entire community.

According to the statement, "Their death came to us very shockingly. This is a great loss not only to the families or people of the community, but to all of us as the government and people of Kano State. Only Allah knows and can forgive

In this article:

Abdullahi Umar Ganduje Zaria-Kano expressway

Advertisement

You may also like

Reps panel urges probe of alleged pollution in Akoka by Total

8 hours ago

Nigeria

Go to Supreme Court for clarification on verdict, Makinde tells sacked council chairmen

8 hours ago

Nigeria

Sanwo-Olu, minister seek proactive action against climate change

8 hours ago

Nigeria

