
Four killed, 10 houses burnt in fresh Plateau attack

By Isa Abdulsalami
Ahovi, Jos

01 August 2021 | 4:14
am

FG commissions metering station in Enugu, frowns at installation of uncertified meters

7 hours ago

Residents of Nche-Tahu community in Bassa Local Council of Plateau State were, on Friday, thrown into mourning, following gunmen's attack, which left three persons dead. Also, 10 houses were set ablaze in the early morning attack.

Similarly, The Guardian also learnt that one person was shot dead in another attack, which occurred in Gwa Rim community in Riyom Local Council of the state same day.

The Publicity Secretary of the Miango Youth Development Association, Nuhu Bitrus, who confirmed the Bassa killings, gave the names of the victims as Timothy Yakubu, Audu Dara, and Irimia David.

According to him, two other persons identified as Francis Ayuba and Anah Dick, who sustained gunshot injuries, were rushed to Jos University Teaching Hospital (JUTH).

Court restrains Abia APC from acknowledging winners of ward congresses

7 hours ago

Bitrus said: "It was last night that the gunmen attacked Nche-Tahu community in Miango, Bassa Local Council. They killed three of our people and injured two others. Ten houses were burnt in the same Nche- Tahu Village and valuable items, including domestic animals were carted away by suspected Fulani herdsmen."

Court restrains woman from running late doctor's firm

7 hours ago
