

Suspected 'Yahoo-Plus' boys dump lady's corpse in Ondo

From Oluwaseun Akingboye, Akure

THE lifeless body of a young lady, whose identity was yet to be identified, was yesterday, dumped in Akure metropolis, the capital city of Ondo State by suspected money ritualists, known as "Yahoo-Plus" boys.

The corpse was dumped around the Redeemed Christian Church of God (RCCG) and Christ Apostolic Church (CAC), Oke-Temidire, in the Oke Ijebu area of the state.

A visit to the scene revealed some bizarre phenomenon that suggested ritualism as she was wrapped in white linen, although no part of her body was gauged or dismembered.

According to sources, the lady was hurriedly shoved off of a moving vehicle by some people in the early hours of Monday.

They suspect that she must have been one of the young ladies, who parade night clubs to offer men sex for money. They added that she must have fallen victim to internet fraudsters, popularly referred to as "Yahoo-Plus" boys, who usually engage in such ritual killings.
