

Delta police nab three suspects for murder of APC chieftain

From Monday Osayande, Asaba

DELTA State Police Command, yesterday, arrested three suspects in connection with the gruesome murder of a chieftain of All Progressives Congress (APC), Chief Sylvester Efeurhobo, in Agbarho, Ughelli North Local Council of the state.

According to sources, Chief Efeurhobo was shot by assailants in his residence at Agbarho, on Sunday night.

The Guardian learnt that the deceased was the Chairman of a pro-APC Support Group, known as the Achievers Group, in Agbarho, and a dedicated party faithful.

Edafe

The killing threw the community into mourning, as scores of members were seen gathered in groups discussing the issue.

They lamented the murder and called on the police to fish out “the perpetrators for prosecution as we mourn the deceased.”

The Command’s spokesperson, Deputy Superintendent of Police (DSP), Bright Edafe, told The Guardian that three suspects are in custody in connection with incident, which occurred on Sunday, April 9, 2023, at Chief Efeurhobo’s country home in Agbarho town.

He said: “I cannot say whether the deceased was a party man or not, but we are still investigating. So far three suspect have been arrested.”

Q All final year student reached to death for all... stealing phone