

1 person dies, another injured in Owode-Idiroko auto crash

By NAN

09 December 2023 | 2:53 pm

The Ogun Traffic Compliance and Enforcement Corps (TRACE) says one person died and another sustained injury when a truck lost control at the Alagbon-Olorunda bridge along Owode-Idiroko Road in Ogun.

Mr Adekunle Ajibade, the South-West Area Commander of TRACE, told the News Agency of Nigeria (NAN) on Saturday in Ota that the accident was due to speeding.

Ajibade explained that the accident which happened on Friday around 4:15 p.m. involved a Mercedes Benz truck with no registration number and a Bajaj motorcycle with registration number DGB 504 VK.

He added that four persons were involved in the accident, in which one person died and one other person injured, while the rest came out unhurt.

Ajibade said the Mercedes Benz truck lost control due to speeding and rammed into a commercial motorcyclist, thus resulting to both plunging into the river.

“The injured victim was taken to hospital before our arrival, while the dead one has been claimed by his relatives for the burial rites,” he said.

Ajibade cautioned motorists and motorcycle riders against reckless driving and excessive speeding to reduce or eliminate accidents during this yuletide season.

In this article

Owode-Idiroko auto crash

Related

Agro-allied products producers empowered for global competitiveness

September 20, 2023

Family demands incident report, repatriation of passenger that died aboard EgyptAir

September 20, 2023

Stakeholders kick against NCS Act, say law contradicts int'l trade practice

September 20, 2023

FIRS revenue collection hits N8.5tr, hopeful of meeting N12tr 2023 target

September 20, 2023

Smart payment provider moves to formalise 'ajo' system with 150,000 digital cards

September 20, 2023

Angry Oyo APC members pelt Ganduje, entourage with sachet water

September 20, 2023