

Metro

One dies in Lagos auto crash at Shitta bridge

By Guardian Editor

07 March 2024 | 5:24 am

LASEMA

One person was reportedly killed in an auto crash around the Shitta area of Lagos State, yesterday.

The State Emergency Management Agency (LASEMA) said it “received a distress call through its toll-free emergency numbers 767/112, at 2215hrs on Tuesday night”.

Permanent Secretary, LASEMA, Olufemi Damilola Oke-Osanyintolu, in a statement, said the agency activated the state’s emergency response plan, with teams responding from Onipan. This led to the arrival of necessary equipment from Cappa Base, the hub of LASEMA’s heavy-duty equipment, in a five-minute record time.

“Upon arrival of the LASEMA Response Team at the incident scene. it was

x

Get the latest news delivered straight to your inbox every day of the week. Stay informed with the Guardian's leading coverage of Nigerian and world news, business, technology and sports.

Sign up now

“The remains of the tricyclist (an adult male) were recovered from the incident scene at the aforementioned address and transported to the Infectious Diseases Hospital, IDH, Yaba, for further processing.

“The three vehicles involved in the multiple accident have been recovered to Iponri Police Station, while the LAWMA PSP compactor truck was recovered to the LAWMA yard in Ijora with the aid of the agency’s heavy-duty equipment at about 2:29 a.m.”

In this article

Lagos auto crash

LASEMA

Shitta bridge

Related

Peter Obi will not leave over smear campaign against Abure – Labour Party

2 hours ago

Terrorists kidnapped over 200 IDPs in Borno

1 hour ago

Wigwe's PA reveals how he narrowly escaped fatal helicopter crash

23 mins ago

I'm willing to step down for peace to reign in Rivers – Fubara

12 mins ago

x

Get the latest news delivered straight to your inbox every day of the week. Stay informed with the Guardian's leading coverage of Nigerian and world news, business, technology and sports.