

Two nabbed for killing site manager, body exhumed three months after

From Monday Osayande, Asaba

THE Delta State Police Command yesterday confirmed the arrest of two persons, David Tacho and Daniel Orshio, for allegedly killing one Chigozie Udalor.

The deceased was the fishpond Akwu-kwu Igbo community site manager, Oshimili North Local Council of the state.

Confirming the development yesterday, spokesperson for the command, SP Bright Edafe, said the suspects are currently detained at the Police cell, and two other suspects, Pius Daniel and Victor Tacho, who are on the run, are employees of the deceased.

Edafe explained that on December 12, 2024, one

Hyacinth Nnalue reported to Akwu-kwu Igbo division that his cousin Chigozie Udalor had been missing since December 10, 2024.

“Upon receipt of this information, the Divisional Police Officer (DPO) commenced an investigation and later transferred the case to the State Criminal Investigation Department (SCID).

“The DPO detailed operatives who commenced an intelligence-led investigation, on March 31, 2025, and arrested one David Tacho, ‘m’, who attempted to withdraw money from the victim’s account through his phone and also arrested Daniel Orshio, who took part in the murder.

“Investigation also revealed that David Tacho is a brother to one Tacho who conspired with Pius Daniel (both at large) and Daniel Orshio, and murdered the victim,” he stated.

“The four suspects who were employed by the deceased, at one point, discovered that he had some money in his Moniepoint account.

CP Olufemi Abaniwonda