

from Gwoza to Biu, Borno State, for a wedding.

- April 25, 2014: Five women were abducted at Gujba, Yobe state during an attack on the town in which three civil servants were killed.
- May 6, 2014: Eight girls, aged twelve to fifteen, were abducted at Warabe and Wala during an attack by armed men on the southern Borno villages. The girls were allegedly taken away on trucks, along with looted livestock and food.
- June 5, 2014: Twenty women and three men were kidnapped in Garkin Fulani settlements, some eight kilometers from Chibok, Borno State. Boko Haram allegedly demanded 800 cows as ransom for the women.
- June 20, 2014: Sixty women, girls, and infants, as well as thirty-one boys, were abducted between by gunmen suspected to be members of the Boko Haram at Kumtabza, Yaga, and Dagu villages in Damboa, Borno State.