

Gunmen Raid Hotel In Lagos, Kill Two, Abduct One

By Femi Ogbonnikan
REPORTER, Lagos

Six armed men have attacked Zinos Hotel located at No. 12, Aromire Avenue, Ikeja in Lagos. The robbers killed two people and took away one.

Sources said the suspects arrived the hotel in a Peugeot 505 saloon car on Friday at 11.55p.m. They shot dead the receptionist.

It was learnt that a lady working at the hotel, who attempted to run when she saw how her colleague was killed, was also shot several times.

She later died when she was being rushed to a nearby hospital.

The gunmen abducted another female staff and took her to an unknown destination.

However, the remains of the two victims had been deposited at the Lagos State University Teaching Hospital (LASUTH), Ikeja for post-mortem examination.

When contacted, the Lagos State Police Public Relations

Officer, Mr. Olubode Ojajuni, confirmed the report.

The Superintendent of Police also confirmed that the corpses of those killed had been deposited at LASUTH, Ikeja for autopsy.

He, however, said police were yet to find the abducted staff.

The matter, he said, had been transferred to the State Criminal Investigation Department (SCID), Panti, Yaba, Lagos for investigation.