Robbers on Wednesday invaded the University College Hospital (UCH), Ibadan and raided one of the old generation banks located in the premises.

They shot at least five people, including a policeman attached to the bank, in the attack.

During the operation, which lasted over 25 minutes, Daily Independent gathered, no fewer than 20 others, including some of the out-patients of the hospital, sustained various degrees of injury as they ran for dear life.

Sources said the men of the underworld carted away millions of naira from the bank.

"The hoodlums shot sporadically into the air," a source told Daily Independent.

Sources said the robbers numbered about 10.

Three of those shot were on the danger list at UCH, it was gathered.

A police source, however, said they were on the trail of the robbers.
