

Again, Robbers Kill Policeman In Lagos

By Femi Ogbonnikan
REPORTER, Lagos

Again, a policeman was shot dead by daredevil armed robbers in Ikorodu area of Lagos on Monday.

Also, a deputy superintendent of police (DSP), who until the incident was operations officer attached to Ipakodo Divisional Police Station, Ikorodu, sustained gunshot wounds.

The incident occurred at a branch of First Bank at Owode, Ibeshe Road, Ikorodu around noon.

Witnesses said the robbers, numbering nine, were armed with sophisticated weapons. They invaded the bank in two vehicles, a grey Toyota Camry LE carrying an Ijebu-Ode Council number plate and a green Mercedes Benz (V/Boot).

On arrival, the bandits killed a police sergeant attached to Ipakodo Division who was on duty at the bank.

Anti-robbery operatives from Ipakodo Division led by the DSP raced to the scene but they were greeted with gunshots.

The DSP sustained gunshot wounds, while the robbers escaped through Beach Road towards Ijebu-Ode Road.

But a reinforcement team of anti-robbery operatives from Igboabo Road Divisional Police Headquarters, Ikorodu raced after the fleeing robbers.