Delta State Police Command on Monday foiled two attempts by suspected armed robbers to cart away money belonging to unidentified banks. First was an attempt on a bullion van and the other was an attempt to rob a new generation bank.

But two persons reportedly lost their lives.

The robbers Daily Independent gathered attacked a bullion van on the Benin-Asaba road while the police repelled the attack and succeeded in rescuing the van to Agbor Police Station.

Reliable sources disclosed that the driver who was driving the vehicle, in which some officials of the bank were, behind the bullion van, lost control during the ensuing duel and ran into the bush, where he died on the spot.
