TWO gun-totting youths on Wednesday gunned down a middle-aged man whose identity was yet to be ascertained at the premises of a new generation bank along Mission Road in Benin City, Edo State.

Daily Independent gathered that the man was trailed to the bank by the two men while another was waiting on a motorcycle outside the bank.

It was also gathered that the man walked out of the bank unaware that the messengers of death were lurking around.

He was reportedly shot twice by the gunmen after crossing to the other side of the road.

It was further learnt that the money, believed to have been withdrawn by the victim from the bank, was collected by the gunmen who escaped with the waiting motorcycle.

It would be recalled that a young woman was shot in the premises of a bank along the same Mission Road by armed robbers who also trailed her to the bank and collected her the money on her.

When contacted, Edo State Police spokesman, Peter Ogbói, an Assistant Superintendent of Police (ASP), said the police was on the trail of the fleeing gunmen.
