PANDEMONIUM broke out at Kola area of Ijokoro Local Government Area (LGA) in Lagos, after a man of about 24 years was stabbed to death at a drinking joint popularly called Otunba located within the vicinity.

Police at Ijaiye Police Station, Lagos and medical report made available to Daily Independent on Sunday, revealed that the incident happened last weekend.

"To be precise, the fight took place last Friday at about 9.10.p.m. The cause of the fight is yet to be ascertained, but witness has it that the deceased and two others were fighting over one call girl," police report said.

Medical Director (MD) of Falimoth Medical Centre, the private hospital where the man was rushed to before he died, Dr. Femi Adeoye, confirmed that the victim died because of acute loss of blood following injury he sustained during a fight.

Police also confirmed that the extent of injury the victim sustained was much.

"It is like he was stabbed with a broken bottle or something like knife, but the cut was deep and at the time somebody rushed to our station to report, the bleeding was much.

"But we still rushed him to the hospital; but few hours later, he was pronounced dead by the doctor and owner of the hospital," a police inspector, who pleaded anonymity disclosed.
