Barely 24 hours after five unidentified members of the Zamfara State chapter of Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) died in a ghastly auto crash along Abeokuta Road in Ibadan, two people have died in another auto crash in Oyo State capital as the duo who were riding on a commercial motorcycle, 'okada', were crushed to death by a petrol tanker which lost control following brake failure.

Saturday's incident occurred at about 10.30 a.m. at the Oritamefa roundabout, directly opposite the K/S Motel, Total Garden in Ibadan as the tanker with registration number, Lagos XH333LSD, lost control as it was descending the sloppy side of Gate area and crushed the motorcycle riders to death.

Eyewitness revealed that the embattled trailer driver, on sensing danger ahead, resorted to shouting, "my break has failed ... my break has failed..." as a warning to other road users before he finally over ran the Round About and the Okada operator and plucked into a wall fence on the right side.

Sources further said the driver of the ill-fated tanker had tried fruitlessly to manoeuvre the truck against hitting either of the two petrol stations adjacent the main road until he eventually crushed the two okada riders beyond recognition.

The tanker also brushed two vehicles, a Toyota Hiace Pick up marked Zamfara XA758GUS and a Toyota Quest bus registered Osun AA694TAN, in the process.

It was a gory sight as the accident which caused a deafening noise left on the road the charred bodies of the Okada rider and his passenger, with the brain and intestines spilling all over the road.

Passers-by and other sympathisers could not hold their emotion as they shouted and wept uncontrollably over the unfortunate incident before policemen and men of the state fire service arrive the scene to prevent breakdown of law and order as the tanker was said to be full of petrol, while fire fighters stationed their equipment to control the situation.

Station to secure the bail of one of their members who had been arrested and detained at the police station when the accident occurred.

For several hours, hundreds of sympathisers and onlookers converged at the scene as officials of the Oyo State Fire Service tried to gather the spilled brain of the victims, just as men of the state police command made efforts to control the traffic jam.

The accident caused lots of traffic snarl along Agodi Gate -Mokola -Secretariat -Yemetu road.

Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO) for the state command, DSP Bisi Okuwobi, could not be reached as at the time of filing in the report as she did not pick her phone when contacted.

Only on Friday, five unidentified members of the Zamfara State chapter of the ruling Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) died in a ghastly auto crash along Abeokuta Road in Ibadan. The deceased were said to be among PDP members who were reportedly travelling from B/Magaji Local Government Area of Zamfara State enroute the Otta Farm of former President Olusegun Obasanjo.
