Asked about the incident, the Director General, Kaduna State elite security outfit, Operation Yaki, Col Gabriel Mammah (rtd), said it was an accident and that these things do happen at times.

On his part, Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), Kaduna State Police Command, DSP Aminu Lawal, said that those hit by the police Hilux van were only two policeman on duty, adding that they are responding to treatment and no life was lost.

However, Sambo, shortly after his registration, reiterated the FG's commitment to delivering a fair and polls in April this year.

Sambo who registered along with his wife at the Kabala Costain/Doki Ward, along Ribadu Crescent, Ungwan/Rimi, said President Goodluck Jonathan is not leaving any stone unturned in his efforts to ensure that this year's election is not only transparent, but one of the best in the world.

The VP, who was registered by National Youth Service Corps (NYSC) member, Bisayo Adebisi, explained that Nigerians should put aside the initial problems encountered in the process of getting their voters card and come out en mass to register in the ongoing exercise, adding that government will make sure that every ones vote counts in its crusade of one man one vote.

According to the vice president, some of the teething problems encountered by the Independent National Electoral Commission (INEC) has been taken care of as the software is now faster than in the past few days of the exercise, adding, "I am pleased to register in less than four minutes".

He used the opportunity to call on all eligible voters of 18 years and above to come out and register, saying that it is part of the civic responsibility of all Nigerians to register and vote during the elections.
