Three dead bodies found at Enugu Main Market

By Emmanuel Nzomiwu

THERE was confusion in Enugu Main Market on Wednesday when three dead bodies were found inside the drainage at the entrance gate.

The news of the bizarre discovery, which spread like wildfire around the market, paralysed commercial activities as traders and customers, trooped to the gate to catch a glimpse of the horrific sight.

According to eyewitness account, the bodies were already decomposing by the time they were discovered yesterday by traders whose shops were close to the gate.

One of the traders told Daily Independent that they noticed a strange stench from the drainage in the morning and when the smell became unbearable to them by noon, they decided to remove one of the slabs.
