UNKNOWN gunmen have shot dead one Chief Francis Akorhe an indigene of Eruemukohwoarien in Osubi community, Okpe Local Government Area of Delta State for reasons yet unknown.

Public Relations Officer of Eruemukohwoarien, Mr. Felix Ogbobore who briefed journalists on the incident said, late Chief Francis Akorhe was gunned down in front of Christ Worshipers Church, Osubi where he had gone to worship God.

Until his untimely death, Akorhe was a member of the church elders' council, where major decisions concerning the church are taken. Akorhe had arisen from the elders' meeting with the intention of going home, unknown to him that his assassins had laid ambush around the church vicinity.

An eye witness, who doesn't want his name in print told Daily Independent that the late Akorhe while making an attempt to open his car's door, was attacked by assassins who appeared with dangerous weapons and having identified him as Chief Francis Akorhe, opened fire on him in his lower abdomen.

*Speaking further, he said, late Akorhe was later rushed to the Ekpan Central Hospital, Effurun where he was confirmed dead by medical experts.
