

Posted in: News

Man, 30, arrested for killing his child

0

By Oladele Ogunsola/Ibadan

Oyo State Police Command has arrested a 30-year old man, Afisu Ibrahim, for allegedly killing his eight-year old son.

The suspect from Irayin Village, Iresaadu, Ogbomoso, Oyo State, was alleged to have hit his son, Majeed Olayiwola, with cudgel on the head following which the helpless boy collapsed.

It was gathered that the deceased was rushed to the Ladoke Akintola University of Technology (LAUTECH) Teaching Hospital, where he died while on admission.

When contacted, the Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), Olabisi Ilobanefor, confirmed the incident, which she said was reported at Iresaadu Police Division by one Amos Olatunji.

The police spokesperson disclosed that detectives had visited the scene of the incident while the corpse was deposited at the General Hospital, Ogbomoso, morgue for autopsy, stating that the culprit had been arrested.

The police officer disclosed that the coroner forms had been served on the hospital for necessary action while the matter had been transferred to the state Criminal Investigation Department for further investigation.

Post Your Comment