A TRUCK bearing container load of apple along Oba Ogunjimi-Akilo axis of Ogba, Lagos State, yesterday, fell on a car, killing one of its occupants immediately while three others escaped unhurt.

According to a police officer who didn't want his name in print, the truck's brake failed and lost control and, in the melee, it collapsed on the car with four occupants.

Three of the car's occupants were able to escape while the fourth, suspected to be sitting at the wheel, was not so lucky. Other eye witnesses at the scene corroborated the police officer's story.

At the time Sunday Independent got to the scene of the accident, policemen from Pen Cinema police station had towed the wrecked car away and moved the body to an undisclosed hospital.
