An Assistant Superintendent of Police (ASP) in the Delta State Police Command, Warri, name withheld, died late last week allegedly after a marathon sex with a lover girl at his barracks residence.

Police sources told Daily Independent that the ASP died with his tongue protruding from his mouth, suggesting that he died of the traditional African charm called “magun”.

The dead Assistant Superintendent of Police was said to billed to retire in a few months time before he met his untimely death.

It was alleged that his lover ran with of the room wearing only her panties and raised the alarm before other women around the barracks scene whisked her away to safety.

Daily Independent saw the late police officer’s kinsmen of Ijaw extraction and some other police officers at the station wearing long faces and discussing the issue in hushed tone. However, one of the officers disclosed that the dead officer died suddenly without being previously ill, refusing to disclose the manner of his sudden death.

The remains of late Assistant Superintendent of Police has since been deposited at the Warri Central Hospital morgue while the lover girl is still at large.

Meanwhile, a Warri-based businessman in his late 50s has committed suicide by hanging himself at his home around the Odion Road area of Warri.

The man simply identifies as Mr. Fregene, was until his death a business mogul with chains of business outfits along the busy Market Road in Warri.

Sources revealed that he left no suicide note as to why he hung himself even as officials of two banks in Warri were said to have paid a condolence visit to the family members.

The police officer has since been buried at the Warri cemetery and was said to be the second old man that have died in the area by hanging in the last two months.
