No fewer than 10 persons were feared dead in a ghastly motor accident that occurred in Abakpa Nike, a suburb of Enugu, Enugu State.

Most of the victims were said to be traders who displayed their wares by the roadside.

Two cars, a bus and two tricycles popularly known as Keke NAPEP, were involved in the accident at Isieke Street, Abakpa, which has a large concentration of street traders.

The accident occurred around 1.30pm, when buying and selling was at its peak along the street.

According to eyewitnesses, a Mercedes Benz car, with registration number LR917AAA, suffered brake failure, overran some street traders and their wares, and collided with two oncoming Keke NAPEP and a Mazda 626 car with registration number DJ 235AKJ, before running into a bus coming from the other end of the street.

The incident threw the entire area into confusion as street traders and other passers-by mobilised to rescue victims. It was gathered that about five victims of the accident who were rescued from the wreckage of the Keke NAPEP were in critical condition.

The drivers of the Mercedes, Mazda and bus were, however, unhurt, according to sources. One street trader who witnessed the rescue operation said about 10 serious casualties were recorded in the accident, while several others sustained injuries.

When contacted, Police Public Relations Officer for Enugu State Command, Ebere Amaraizu, confirmed the report. Amaraizu, a Deputy Superintendent of Police, however, said the police were yet to ascertain the exact number of casualties and other details about the accident as at press time Saturday.
