The attacks and counter attacks in Kajuru Local Government Area of Kaduna State appear unending as gunmen suspected to be Fulani herdsmen were said to have again attacked two villages, killing over 100 people and burning over 30 houses Monday morning.

A source from Dogo Noma told Daily Independent that the gunmen attacked Ikirimi village as well as Iri, Dogon Noma in Ungwar Gamo in Kajuru.

The source said he was from Dogon Noma but was based in Kaduna metropolis.

According to him, they got the news of the attack about 8.30a.m on Monday and rushed there about 10a.m.

He said, however, that before he got there the attackers had wreaked havoc and
