A 50-year-old man, Olaokuwa Fayomi has lost his life after he was attacked by his lover's ex-boyfriend Abdullahi Lawal.

The accused has been ordered by an Ado-Ekiti Magistrate's Court to be remanded in prison custody till the final determination of the case.

Lawal, 35, is standing trial on a charge of the murder of one Olaoluwa Fayomi, 50, after the woman started a new love affair with the deceased.

According to the police prosecutor, Inspector Oriyomi

Akinwale, told the court that the accused person committed the offence on April 24, in Ado-Ekiti within the magisterial district.

The prosecutor said the accused person and deceased were dating a woman, and the woman later told the defendant that she is no more interested in the relationship.

Akinwale said the woman told the defendant that she is now dating another man who happens to be the deceased (Fayomi).

Akinwale said that in the cause of their fighting, the defendant stabbed the deceased on the chest which led to his death.

The offence, the prosecuted said, contravened Section 319 (1) of the Criminal Code, Laws of Ekiti State, 2012.

The prosecutor urged the court to remand the defendant in prison pending legal advice from office of Director of Public Prosecution (DPP). The plea of the defendant was not taken.

The Magistrate, Mrs Modupe Afeniforo, ordered that the defendant should be remanded in prison custody, pending an advice from the office of DPP.

Afeniforo adjourned the case until June 10 for mention.
