LAGOS – Sheriff Balogun, a car wash operator, has been arrested by police detectives attached to the Lagos State Police Command for allegedly killing his neighbour over locking of their residence's gate in Itire area of Lagos.

The alleged killer, Balogun, 35, was reported to have committed the act at No. 32 Ola street, Itire, Lagos on January 11, 2020 at about 0130hrs.

Balogun was nabbed after he was reported by one Faith Elebo, daughter of the deceased at the station after the incident.

The Police spokesperson, Bala Elkana, in a statement said, the suspect who lived in the same compound with the deceased, Peter Elebo, had a fight with him on the agreed time when to be closing their compound gate.

It was gathered that Sherif Balogun pushed down Elebo during the cause of the scuffle.

Bala said, “Sherif Balogun pushed down Peter Elebo who started vomiting blood and died on the spot.

“The suspect was arrested by Homicide detectives of the police led by the Divisional Police Officer, Itire, SP Barkfur Kromkyes, who visited the scene.

“The corpse of the deceased person was evacuated to mortuary for autopsy while the suspect has been transferred to the State Criminal Investigation Department (SCIID), Yaba, for discreet investigation and prosecution,” said Bala.
