

Ekiti Community Boils Over Killing Of Native By 'Hit And Run' Driver

By Popoola Yaqoub - February 8, 2020

ADO-EKITI – Aramoko in Ekiti West Local Government erupted in protest over killing of a native by a hit and run driver.

The suspect, now in Police net, was said to be driving on a top speed when he mistakenly rammed into a motorcycle thus killing the passenger on the spot while the bike man was rushed to the hospital.

The Public Relations Officer, Ekiti State Command, Sunday Abutu, confirmed the incident adding that the driver is currently in the police custody for further investigation.

According to witnesses, the principal was on his way to the school in Ikoro Ekiti when the incident happened.

People of Aramoko who could not bear the pain of losing their loved one took to the street in anger.

The people barricaded the major road in the community thus making commuters and motorists stranded.