ABAKALIKI – A middle aged woman simply identified as Mrs. Eddie, from Ndiakpurata, Igbeagu Community in Izzi Local Government Area of Ebonyi State has allegedly killed her husband with rat poison.

She was consequently paraded on Thursday by the villagers comprising youths and women of the area for the alleged act.

The angry villagers moved her round the village square naked, before banishing her.

It was gathered that the accused allegedly took her husband's life for beating her over her alleged extra-marital affairs with other men in the village.

A source from the village who preferred to be anonymous said Mrs Eddie was fond of sleeping outside her marital home.

“When she returned home late on Sunday night, the husband confronted her, and a quarrel ensued, and in the process, the husband beat hell out of her. Angered by his action, she revenged by preparing his meal with rat poison which led to his death,” the source said.

The source further described the woman's action as an abomination, adding that she deserved the treatment offered her by the community.

“What the woman did is unpardonable and an abomination. That was why the youths stripped her naked and paraded her around the village.

“The man came back from a burial that fateful night and ate a food prepared by her wife with the rat poison, and the following morning, he was reported dead.

“She secretly threw the remaining food away so that we will not know, but God has exposed her evil act. She has been flirting with different boys in the community despite her age and the fact that her husband is a responsible man who takes care of her. Her action is embarrassing and a disgrace to womanhood,” the source narrated.

When contacted, the State Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), DSP Loveth Odah, said the command was yet to get the report, but assured that they would find out the truth.
