Man's Car Rams Into Okada Riders, Kill Four In Osun

By Our Correspondents   6:42 am , Fri, 19 June 20   METRO

AdSense – Leaderboard 1

BISI ADESOYE

ILESA – A man only identified as a Yahoo boy Thursday killed four Okada riders at Kajola, Atakumosa West Local Government Council Area of Osun State when his car rammed into their station.

An eye-witness account told Daily Independent at Kajola town that the Yahoo boy who was coming from Osogbo en route Ilesa rammed into the Okada riders stationed at Kajola Town with his car and escaped immediately from the scene.

Boredom Ad

Consequently, it was gathered that over 40 youths from Kajola town who visited the scene demanded the arrest of the Yahoo boy, of which failure to do so, the Police Station at Kajola would be burnt before end of Thursday.

Our correspondent visited the scene of the incident said that blood of the victims was spilled on the ground while the body of the four okada riders had been removed by the police to hospital for post mortem examination.

It was learnt that the wife of one of the victims has just given birth to a female child while another got married to his wife a few days ago.

One Kajola indigene, Babasola Adeyemi, told our correspondent the new method of Yahoo boys was to renew their rituals by looking for blood at all costs, stressing that it was why the Yahoo boy purposefully ran into Okada riders to get blood, alleging that failure to get blood that day meant his money would cease to come to him.

AdSense – Leaderboard 2

Efforts to speak with Police image maker at Osogbo proved abortive as a voice said that the PPRO has gone to Kajola with a senior police Officer.