

BREAKING: Abuja Traders Desert Gudu Market As Man Dies

By Toyin Adebayo On Oct 22, 2020 4:11 PM

FEATURED LATEST NEWS

Abuja – The Federal Capital Territory (FCT) Police Command has mobilized men to Gudu Market, in Abuja Municipal Area Council (AMAC), following reports of the killing of an unnamed man in the market on Thursday.

INDEPENDENT learnt that the traders have deserted the usually bustling market located in the Gudu District of Abuja because of the incident.

One of the traders who simply identified himself as Victor said everyone left the market in fear after the corpse of a man was found in the vicinity, adding that the market has been shut down.

According to him; “Because of the attack by thugs on Tuesday, everyone was afraid that the violence may spread to the market. So, we all locked our shops and ran. I don’t know the circumstances surrounding the man’s death but the market has been shut down,” the trader said on the phone.

The FCT police spokesperson, ASP Mariam Yusuf, confirmed the incident, adding that operatives had been deployed to provide security at the facility