“When they came to the town, they didn’t find them because they had went on patrol. So they decided to trace them to where they are. While they went, they met on the way. Immediately,

Pastor shot three times at the operation but the bullet did not penetrate. At this point they entered their bike and decided to run away.

“But they were chased by both the vigilante and members of the community who has been alerted by the gunshots. In the process, one of the vehicle chasing them knocked down the bike and they fell down. At this point they started running on foot, a pastor was caught in the process and before you know it, he was set ablaze along with the bike they came with by the mob.”
