Suspected gunmen on Wednesday evening shot dead a man and his police orderly along Port Harcourt express road in Enugu.

An unconfirmed source identified the deceased as the Director General of Science and Equipment Development Institute (SEDI), Prof. Samuel Ndubisi.

Checks further revealed that the deceased and his police orderly were driving along Port Harcourt expressway at about 4pm on Wednesday when the gunmen launched the attack and shot both of them dead.

When contacted, the police spokesperson of Enugu State police command, Daniel Ndukwe, who confirmed the report said the information about the attack was still sketchy.

He said "Information surrounding a shooting incident today, 07/07/2021 at about 1600hrs, along Enugu/Port-Harcourt Expressway, leading to the death of a man and his Police orderly, is still sketchy. Meanwhile, preliminary investigation has commenced. Further development will be duly communicated."

This is coming barely one month after the former judge of Enugu State High Court Justice Stanley Nnaji was shot dead by gunmen along Ebeano tunnel I, within the metropolis.
