

Seven Dead, Three Injured In Late-Night Accident On Lagos/Ibadan Expressway

RAJI ADEBAYO

IBADAN

No fewer than seven persons have been confirmed dead, three injured in a late-night accident, which involved two vehicles with no registration numbers along Lagos-Ibadan expressway on Sunday.

Ogun State Sector Command of the Federal Roads Safety Corps (FRSC) confirmed the incident on Monday.

According to the command's spokesperson, Florence Okpe, the suspected cause of the crash was a route violation.

Okpe explained that the two vehicles involved had a head-on collision due to a one-way drive and this resulted in a fire outbreak.

"A total of 10 persons were involved, three injured while the other seven were burnt beyond recognition only to be identified with skulls," she said.

She added that the injured victims have been taken to Victory Hospital Ogere, Ogun State.

The Sector Commander of FRSC in the state, Ahmed Umar, however cautioned motorists to desist from driving against traffic.

He commiserated with the family members of the victims, asking them to contact the FRSC office in Ogunmakin Area for more information about the injured persons.
