

restriction recommendations ment within the country as the

of what to do about the situation agencies that are responsible for which operators to be allowed in Nigeria.

Police Inspectors Ibrahim Abazi and Yakubu Toma on the entourage of ex-President Goodluck Jonathan died on Wednesday in Abuja after a convoy crash.

The ex-president and his wife, Patience, have been to

Two Police Officers Die In Jonathan's Convoy Crash

the emergency unit of the National Hospital, Abuja, where all victims were evacuated to.

Although Jonathan was not admitted into any of the units in the hospital, some members of his team were critically injured.

According to sources, the convoy was involved in an accident while returning from Nnamdi Azikiwe International Airport, Abuja, to his residence in the Federal Capital Territory (FCT).

Meanwhile, former President Goodluck Jonathan has expressed deep sadness over the unfortunate tragic death of two police officers attached to him, in the road crash at the vicinity of the Abuja airport, while on his way out of the airport.

The former president who described the incident as painful and heart-rending stated that the sudden death of the two security details has thrown him into deep mourning.