Mr. Victor Chukwuemeka Ogbonna who paraded himself as a medical doctor has been arrested for allegedly killing a seven-year old girl in Mgbowo in Awgu Local Government

Area of Enugu State.

The quack doctor was alleged to be responsible for the death of the girl as she died during blood transfusion.

It was gathered that, Mr. Ogbonna, a Medical Lab Scientist, converted his Lab into a mini clinic where he had been treating patients Checks further revealed that Ogbonna who owns a private hospital in Ngbowo where the girl met her untimely death was in the process of carrying out blood transfusion when the girl gave up the ghost.

A source who spoke on condition of anonymity told our correspondent that the mother of the girl, Mrs. Ngozika Emeka, took her sick daughter to Mr. Ogbonna Laboratory to run a test but after the test, Mr. Ogbonna decided to carry out blood transfusion on the child which allegedly led to her death.

He said child was confirmed dead on getting to Zion Hospital, Mgbowo.

When contacted, Enugu Police Spokesperson, DSP Daniel Ndukwe, who confirmed the incident, said investigation was ongoing."
