Day Old Baby Found Dead In Bali

BY ANDREW OJIH, JALINGO

A day old baby was in the early hours of yesterday found dead at a popular student's area known as Angwan Danayel, Bali local government, Taraba State.

When LEADERSHIP visited the scene of the incident, the corpse of the baby was seen wrapped and placed in a biscuit carton after it was delivered by an unknown mother.

A commercial motorcyclist who spoke with LEADERSHIP, said he overheard a carpenter at Angwan Danayel telling people that he heard a cry of a baby along the bridge at about 11:00pm, Sunday.

He explained that nobody was ready to rescue the baby for fear of police interrogation, adding that the baby would have survived if not for the heavy down pour that fateful night.

Inspector Matthew James Gandi of the Nigeria Security and Civil Defence Corps, NSCDC, Bali Division, who discovered the dead body, explained that he was on his way to the office when he saw a carton by the roadside with flies all around, adding that being security conscious he went closer and peeped inside only to discover that there was a dead baby inside.
