

Ebonyi Auto Crash

BY OBINNA OGBONNAYA, Abakaliki

An auto crash has occurred in Ebonyi, killing one and injuring many other travellers.

A J5 van with over 28 passengers and travelling from Abakaliki, in Ebonyi State, to Arochuku in Abia State for the New Year celebration lost control and killed one person along Akpoha axis of the Abakaliki-Afikpo express road.

An official of the Federal Road Safety Corps (FRSC), Ebonyi State command, who spoke to LEADERSHIP on grounds of anonymity, said that one of the passengers, a female, died on the spot, while several others sustained various degrees of injuries.

He said that the accident which occurred in the early hours of yesterday was a result of over-speeding, adding that when the front tyre of the vehicle burst, the driver could not control the vehicle and, as a result, the vehicle somersaulted several times and landed in a bush along the road.

"The van was carrying passengers numbering about 28. The

75-year-old Man Dies After Sex With Prostitute

BY KOLA NIYI-EKE, Asaba

A 75-year-old man, Ogueshi Nwoye (surname removed), resident in Ogbesuwe quarters in Asaba, Delta State, slumped and died at the weekend after an alleged marathon sex with a 21-year-old female school dropout at the same quarters.

LEADERSHIP reliably gathered that the lady, popularly called "Lady P", a renowned commercial sex worker, was sent out of school for poor academic performance, after failing to pass her JSS 3 exams several times.

LEADERSHIP checks revealed that her stock in trade was to seduce more elderly men into sex romps.

Sources said that Ogueshi Nwoye, one of her admirers, was challenged to a sex bout after parting with N5,000, a situation that led both into some rounds of sex, which left the man gasping for breath afterwards.

He slumped and was rushed to a nearby hospital by sympathisers, where he was confirmed dead on arrival.

Although DSP Charles Muka, the acting police spokesman in the state, said he was yet to get the report and could not confirm the story, an insider said that the police were working round the clock to curb avoidable deaths in the state. It was gathered that the young woman is at large presently.
