Mrs Salomy Awoni, whose husband died in a fatal motor accident when his Honda SUV vehicle rammed into a Mack Truck parked along a fast lane in Uyo, Akwa State yesterday, has blamed the negligence of the the officers of the Federal Road Safety Corps (FRSC) for her husband's death.

Awoni, who sobbed uncontrollably, told LEADERSHIP FRIDAY that instead of accepting that their negligence had caused her husband's death, corps members had said the accident had occurred because her husband was drunk. She railed at the corps members for always "giving excuses to cover their irresponsibility which led to the death of my husband and many others on the highway.

"It is unfortunate that the people who are supposed to be responsible for the safety of everybody are the ones who are trying to use this avenue to show their irresponsibility which has led to the death of many people on the highways.

"My husband just went out to eat something that evening when he ran into that truck.

"Before the incident happened a good Samaritan had called the FRSC officials to alert them of the danger posed by the truck parked in the middle of the fast lane.
