An armed robber yesterday confessed that it was in line with their modus operandi to always kill their victims with tracker in their vehicle. This confession was made in Benin City, at the state police command, when 46 suspected armed robbers, kidnappers, child defilers, rapists and receiver of stolen goods, were paraded before newsmen.

Addressing journalists at the State Command of the Nigerian Police, Commissioner for Police, Folusho Adebajo, said 14 assorted guns, 22 live cartridges, 2,112 live AK 47 ammunition, 17 AK 47 rifles, one expended cartridge and seven vehicles, were recovered from the suspects, adding that they were picked across the state in the last one month.

One of the suspects who was said to have killed his victim and threw his body inside a well confessed to the crime before journalists saying, "It was one Ezomo Monday that said I should do it."

"He said I should kill the person and throw the person inside the well because there was a car we snatched and the tracker stopped the car on the way. So the man now said that anytime we get a vehicle with tracker, either we kill the person or injure the person".
