

Boko Haram's
Source Of Weapons Revealed.

"I never concern is that some members of the APC may be sponsors or supporters or soko Haram, a concern that is logical and worthy of investigation. Also, on the 23 July 2014, a Conservative Party think-tank, the Bow Group, published a document titled 'Exposing and Defeating Boko Haram: Why the West must unite to help Nigeria defeat terrorism', in which it unequivocally questioned the relationship between APC and Boko Haram.

"It is only natural, therefore, that the APC would come out to defend itself as well as try to deceive the public. It can be recollected that APC was vehemently against Nigeria seeking and receiving support in terms of military intelligence and logistics from the Western world when the mayhem of Boko Haram reached cataclysmic levels. The PDP government wisely ignored them and welcomed the assistance of the Western world in seeking peace for the country.

Boko Haram: Cameroon closes border schools

The Cameroonian government has announced closure of some schools in the far north bordering Nigeria as Boko Haram gained momentum in attacking the region, saying the government is set to relocate the school populations to more secure areas.

The 2014-2015 academic year began in the country with thousands of students and teachers deserting schools in the area over fear of the terrorist attacks. Some schools had been either destroyed or occupied by the militants.

Cameroon secretary of state for secondary education Monouna Fotsou told Voice of America (VOA) that the government plans to move students for security reasons.

"Where the situation is so bad, we will de-localise some schools; at that moment also we will bring the staff and the students to the new sites. The objective of this Boko Haram is to traumatize our citizens," Fotsou said.

Also speaking with the agency, a teacher, Pamela Singeh, said: "I cannot advise any child to go to school in the border zone because it is dangerous.

"Look at some classrooms; they have been destroyed by Boko Haram. They even come here to pray; so I would not advise or allow any child to go to school in this area."

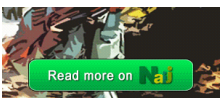

Terrorist group Boko Haram has massacred, kidnapped and looted villages along Cameroon with attacks becoming more frequent as the group has gained momentum in its fight for its own caliphate in Gwoza, Borno State. The armed forces has done little to stop the violence.
