One of the victims of the Kontagora bomb blast, Fasilat Oludege Ajoke, finally gave up the ghost after sustaining serious injuries from the bomb explosion of the female suicide bomber at the Federal College of Education (FCE), Kontagora.

This was even as there was another bomb scare at the state-owned Maryam Babangida Girls Science Secondary School, Minna.

This was coming on the heels of the visit of Governor Mu'azu Babangida Aliyu to the FCE in Kontagora yesterday, where he said the trend of female suicide bombing in Nigeria is horrible.

LEADERSHIP Friday gathered that Ajoke, one of the four victims injured by the blast in the school compound, died Wednesday night when she received medical attention.

was being conveyed from Kontagora to Minna for better medical attention.

It was learnt that Ajoke was a 300 level student pursuing Bachelor of Arts, Education/English programme of the College of Education affiliated to the Ahmadu Bello University, Zaria.

Our findings revealed that Ajoke who was from Kwara State was referred to the IBB Specialist Hospital, Minna following the critical nature of injuries she sustained and the need for a more comprehensive medical attention.

The late Ajoke was said to have been in serious pain, and unfortunately died after losing a lot of blood and sustaining internal injuries before making it to the IBB Specialist Hospital.

Meanwhile, there was another bomb scare at the Niger State-owned Maryam Babangida Girls Science Secondary School, Minna, yesterday.

It was learnt that a lady wearing Hijab had gained entrance into the school and allegedly threatened to detonate a bomb, causing both staff and students of the school to scamp for safety and by the time the police came, the whereabouts of the lady were unknown.

When contacted, the police public relations officer, Ibrahim Abiodun Gambari said the situation was like a false alarm because when the police were drafted there, they could not see anything or anybody, and urged the people to go about their normal businesses as the area was calm.

The commissioner of education, Danladi Abdulhammed Umar, who immediately visited the school, said all public schools in Niger State are to suspend forthwith all forms of open congregational activity.
