

JUNGLE JUSTICE: Irate Mob Beats Armed Robber To Death In Enugu

BY NNAMDI MBAWIKE, Enugu

A notorious armed robber identified as one Emeka Qdo has been beaten to death by an angry mob in Enugu.

A release made available to reporters in Enugu by the Enugu State Police Command's Public Relations Officer, Ebere Amaraizu, said the late robber had been a torn on the flesh of motorists and inhabitants within Obollo Afor in Udenu Local Government Area of the state and its environs.

Amaraizu disclosed that the robber met his Waterloo after he allegedly pulled a locally made pistol on a victim, adding that people swiftly overpowered him, rescued his victim and wounded him seriously.

"It was gathered that before the arrival of police operatives, the suspect was already in a state of unconsciousness and, on the way to hospital, gave up the ghost.

It was further gathered that suspect had been on the wanted list of the police operatives over his nefarious activities, ranging from several reported cases of Armed Robbery within Obollo Afor and its environs. One locally made pistol with live cartridges," Amaraizu stated
