Residents of PTI Road in Effurun, near Warri, Delta State were thrown into confusion following the mysterious death of 71-year old security guard after alleged marathon sex with a strange woman.

It was reliably gathered that the victim, identified as Borniface Madu, had received an unknown female guest last Thursday in his place of work during nightfall and allegedly had sex with her before giving up the ghost in mysterious circumstances.

Reacting, his family members and the owner of the compound where he worked have expressed shock over the incident and petitioned the police to investigate his death as he never had any signs of sickness before the incident.

But unconfirmed sources said the security guard allegedly had marathon sex with the female guest suspiciously hustling to make ends meet.

It was further learnt that the security guard was working as gateman in a compound whose owner is not always around except the younger brother who occasionally comes around to sleep in the house with his lovers.

But the police image maker in the State, DSP Celestina Kalu confirmed that the security guard was killed in marathon sex with a strange woman who allegedly sauntered into the premises for fear of security agents chasing prostitutes out of the streets of Warri adding that wrappers of the woman was found in one of the rooms.

The body of the security guard was discovered by the younger brother of the owner of the compound after his efforts to drive into the house on his return from a club house failed on the fateful night.

He was said to have reported the matter to the police station in Effurun Division prompting the police to swing into action for investigation.
