The Ibadan Polytechnic community on Tuesday mourned the death of three staff members and six students of the institution who lost their lives in an auto crash at Motunde village along Ibadan-Oyo road on Monday night.

13 others were also reported to have sustained serious injuries.

Our correspondent, who visited the school on Tuesday saw students gathered in groups, discussing the sad event.

Academic and non-academic activities were also grounded in the school.

It was gathered that five of the injured victims are currently on a danger list according to hospital sources.

The students and non-teaching staff were reported to have been coming from a naming ceremony in Oyo town, when the crash occurred.

The accident was said to have occurred when the Hummer bus the victims were in crashed due to a burst tire.

The 18-seater bus was said to have tumbled, thereby killing four of the passengers on the spot while two died later at the Adeoyo State hospital. Three patrol vehicles of the Federal Road Safety Corp were later deployed to the scene.
