

Man Kills Neighbour's Daughter Over Missing N90,000

BY ABU NMODU, Minna

A 26 year old man, Nuhu Mohammed of Izom in Niger State has allegedly conspired with his friend, Sani Usman, to kill his neighbour's 14-year old daughter, Ubaida Surajo, after an altercation with the neighbour over a missing N90,000.

It was learnt that Ubaida Surajo was killed in her parent's residence when the mother was at Izom market.

There was an altercation between the man and the deceased's mother about her missing N90,000, because she accused him of being the main suspect in the case.

Police spokesman, Wasiu Abiodun, said the incident was reported at Gawu-Babangida Division Gurara local government area.

He said; "Upon receipt of the unfortunate incident, police operatives attached to the division commenced preliminary investigation and arrested Nuhu Mohammed and Sani Usman, both of Izom town."

He said during interrogation, Nuhu who was a tenant in the same residence, confessed committing the crime.

The PPRO said Nuhu confessed that the accusation by the mother of Ubaida made him angry, consequently, he invited his friend, Sani to the house and attacked the daughter (the deceased) immediately after the girl returned from school.

"He said the girl was injured on the head and strangled to death by the duo and they immediately left the scene, locked the house gate from outside and went away until when the mother came back from the market before the incident was discovered," the PPRO explained.
