Operatives of Bauchi Police Command have neutralised a suspected kidnapper during an exchange of fire with criminals in Toro local government area of the state.

They rescued six victims, including a 17-old-girl Rashida Hamisu, from the kidnappers' den.

The exercise took place on Wednesday during a joint operation with JTF and local hunters who acted on intelligence and raided two identified suspected kidnappers' enclaves in both Angwari and Saya mountains in the area.

In a press statement signed by the command's spokesperson, SP Ahmed Mohammed Wakil and made available to journalists in Bauchi on Thursday, he said the joint operational team engaged the kidnappers in a gun dwell which forced the armed hoodlums to scamper in disarray with possible serious bullet wounds.
