

School Building Collapse Kills SS-2 Female Student, Injures Others In Yobe

BY HUSSAINI JIRGI Damaturu

A dilapidated classroom block has collapsed, claiming the life of one female student and leaving several others injured at the Government Girls Science Technical College in Potiskum, Yobe State.

A piece of credible information from the school Authority confirmed that the incident occurred, leaving several students trapped under the rubble during school hours.

LEADERSHIP gathered that the building caved in while students were walking past it, killing one of them while several others sustained various degrees of injuries.

However, shortly after the incident, the emergency responders, which included school officials, quickly entered into school primers to pick up the victims at Specialist Hospital Potiskum for medical attention.

One of the government officials who didn't want his name printed, the state Ministry of Education, visited the scene for further action and to assess the damage.

He said, "I want to inform you that, for now, one female student lost her love in a collapsed building, and many were admitted to the hospital; we are working together to investigate the course.
