

One feared dead in police, students clash

THE ancient town of Ondo, headquarters of Ondo West Local government, was hit by crisis yesterday when students of Adeyemi College of Education and the police clashed. One student was feared shot dead.

From Abayomi Daramola,
Ondo

The Nation learnt from a competent Police source that the genesis of the clash was a report of alleged house-breaking lodged against some students of the institution following which the Police at the Enuwa Division arrested the students.

The Nation learnt further that attempts by some students union officials to secure the bail of the arrested students, were unsuccessful even as the officials were allegedly harassed by the police.

As the news of the alleged treatment meted to their leaders circulated to the larger body of students on the campus, the students mobilized to the police station.
