One killed in Lagos crash

ONE person was killed and 13 others injured yesterday morning in Lagos as a 14-seater commercial bus marked LAGOS XM 370 GGE, sommersaulted on the Eko Bridge.

Policemen at the scene said that the bus was heading for Mushin, in the Mainland, when it had a burst tyre on the bridge and sommersaulted.

An eyewitness said the bus crossed the median on the bridge at about 7.30 a.m. and would have caused a multiple accident, but it missed other vehicles heading towards the Island on the opposite lane.

The body of the dead male passenger had not been evacuated to the morgue.
